

Yacht "AXIA"

37.5m (123') Sparkman & Stephens Ketch

$30,000 Value

- Three-Day Charter as mutually agreeable date
- 6 People Maximum
- Location Greece: Spetses, Hydra or the Temple of Poseidon in the Bay of Sunion
- Food & Fuel Included

AXIA, the Greek word for "worthy," is a testament to this yacht's grand pedigree. The perfect collaboration of Sparkman & Stephens naval architecture and John Mumford interior design, this 123-foot Palmer Johnson is an exceptional charter yacht.

AXIA is a traditional/classic world-cruising pilothouse ketch. She confidently voyages the waters of the Caribbean, New England and the Mediterranean and is keen for you to come aboard and discover her worthiness, both at sea and charter.

AXIA is mother ship to an 18-foot Novurania RIB and her toy chest is chock full. One kayak, wakeboard and kneeboard, a towable banana, adult and child water skis, two inflatable SUPs and snorkel gear are all at your fingertips.

If you want to get ashore for a picnic, the vessel has beach barbecue gear.

AXIA's highly experienced and professional crew of 6, including a Greek Chef de Cuisine, will ensure your vacation is outstanding from start to finish.

AXIA's spacious aft deck area features a large dining table and settees for alfresco entertaining in the generous cockpit area. Her large aft deck has teak lounge chairs for relaxing under the sun, stars or shade of the awning.

AXIA's expansive main saloon and dining area with classical Munford teak fielded panels, polished brass accents, and Baccarat crystal is the perfect meld of old-world nautical style and graceful elegance.

The private study/family room contains an office, entertainment center, sleeper sofa, flat screen TV and CD with iPod hookup. Wi-Fi, Satellite Internet Offshore and GSM provide for worldwide communications.

Two beautifully appointed port and starboard guest staterooms both with twin beds and ensuite bathrooms with shower, toilet and bidet.

The master stateroom's king bed with sumptuous Italian Frette linens will envelop you in luxury and comfort.

The large stateroom includes a vanity/dressing table, generous wardrobes, and a settee.

The Master's ensuite bathroom includes bathtub, toilet, and bidet with Italian Calcutta gold vein marble throughout complementing the inlaid wood.

